

Ken Coles

7th September 1968 - 13th February 2012

Ken continues to live in the hearts & minds of all that knew and loved him. An inspiration in life Ken continues to inspire us all to be better people each and every day through the lessons he taught us. A beautiful, caring, thoughtful and devine individual - his passing is unfathomable.

As everyone who has experienced a loss of this magnitude will know everyday brings with it a series of new beginnings and new beginnings can be hard. Together with the more intimate memories shared by me, his wife, his absence is felt so deeply.

The challenge faced now is to embrace everyday, cherishing the memories, safe in the knowledge that he is watching over me, smiling & guiding me on my life journey.

I am to forever live up to his expectations & make him proud of whom I have become as a result of knowing & loving such an extraordinary human being.
